Dress to Impress For Your Interview

The Basic Needs Resources Program, specifically the Thrift N' Thrive initiative, can assist students with accessing clothing for interviews*

Click Here to Navigate To The Basic Needs Website

Yes, to wearing Neutral Colored Suits to Your interviews

Images of neutral suits shown including a dark blue blazer, a light blue blazer with a white shirt and red tie underneath, a two piece suit set with a blue skirt and blue blazer, a full black suit with a blue tie, a black blazer with a black suit skirt and a white top underneath, and a gray blazer with a grey shirt and a white tie are shown

Yes, to wearing non-distracting shirts

Images of neutral, plain shirts shown including a blue long sleeve blouse, a long sleeve blue button up, a grey blouse with a bow detail around the neck, a pink blouse, a black blouse with buttons, a yellow long sleeve with buttons, a dark blue long sleeve with long sleeves, and a long sleeve button up shirt with subtle dots all over it

No, to wearing non-work appropriate and/or overly casual clothing

Images shown include a two-piece sport bra and exercise short set, a cropped top blouse, jeans, a t-shirt with the word "spirit" on it, swimming trunks, a grey hoodie, a spaghetti strap shirt, a plain casual t-shirt, a baseball cap, and a pajama set (no pajamas even on Zoom!)

No, to distracting patterns and/or jewelry – they want to be focused on you, your personality should be conveyed through your answers

Images shown include a Hawaiian style button up t-shirt that is orange with yellow flowers on it, a plaid button up long sleeve with a bold bright blue on dark blue pattern, a two piece plaid skirt and matching long sleeve sweater-style top with a bold pink checkered print on a red background, a long sleeve blouse with a heart pattern, and a boldly patterned orange long sleeve shirt with yellow and red squares covering it

What To Bring To your Interview

Images include: deodorant, a briefcase, mints, a structured black handbag, an image of a References list, an image of the Job description, an image of a business card, an image of a padfolio with writing paper on it, an image of a sheet with questions for the employer, an image of a resume, an image of a portfolio, an image of a water bottle, and an image of a pen